PROFILE

Detail-oriented Front-end Web Developer with an eye for design and an affinity for creative problem solving. With a background in finance and content creation, I champion taking initiative when finding a novel approach to generating solutions. In questions of both design and development I believe in creating user-friendly, accessible, and captivating content that promotes uniquely positive and impactful digital experiences.

PROJECTS

Cinematic Intelligence | [LIVE] [REPO]

HTML, CSS, JavaScript, jQuery, REST API

A machine learning driven application which generates a series of recommended films based upon their similarity to the user's input.

Global Covid-19 Tracker | [LIVE] [REPO]

HTML, SCSS, JavaScript, REST API

A pair-programmed application which generates a current breakdown of global statistics to compare with a country based on the user's choice.

Neuromancy | [LIVE] [REPO]

React, SCSS, JavaScript, Firebase

A studying application with a real time database that locally stores the user's input then dynamically generates questions for review and test their knowledge.
